THE CALIFORNIA CROP PROSPECT.

The Sacramento Record-Union has been at some pains to ascertain the facts relative to the crop prospect, and the general result is presented herewith. The general situation, considering all the circumstances, is very encouraging. Nevada farmers will find the subjoined resume to possess much valuable information.

In Sacramento county the outlook is very favorable, especially so in all the flat land districts. The summer fallow makes a fine showing and promises happily. It is noticeable that a far larger section of Sacramento county than for several years, which embraces the low lands, is put in to wheat, with a fine promise. So, that while Sacramento will produce in grains a full average crop, it will be due chiefly to the fact that the reclaimed and bottom lands have so extensively been put to seed.

In Yuba county, that portion along the Feather river, the crops never promised better. In that section indeed they seldom if ever fail. In Butte county the outlook is very promising for an abundant harvest, as indeed it is all up the east side of the Sacramento river. On the west side of the stream the prospects of a good yield, at this particular time, are better than at any time last year. Close into the foothills the crop growth is so luxuriant that it has become too heavy, and the farmers are calling for sheep to graze it down. It is an unusual thing, but it is a fact, that the crops on the Glenn Rancho in Colusa county are not so good as those close along the foothills, where the October rains and the succeeding warm sunshine brought out the volunteer and up almost to full growth with wonderful rapidity.

In the vicinity of Tehama and Red Bluff the grain never looked better. There remains, however, hanging over all that northern region the one possibility which might prove of great damage to the growing crops—the possibility of successive and long continued northers. North winds of any great duration would undoubtedly do much injury. But this is a remote contingency, and it is noticeable that in all the region north of Sacramento the farmers are all feeling well confident that the yield of their lands will prove highly remunerative.

In Solano county the outlook is good and an average yield seems to be as fully assured as is possible.

The swamp lands along the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers under cultivation will this year make their largest returns to their owners. No season could have been more favorable to them, and there is now no ordinary happening which could blight their prospects. So, too, with the lands bordering upon the rivers; they promise full returns, and their owners are in good heart.

The general conclusion, then, is that the country lying north of a line drawn through the Golden Gate east will produce an average crop. In Sonoma and Napa counties the crops are in splendid order, never better, while our advices from Humboldt, Mendocino and Lake give a most cheering outlook for the production in those sections. So, then, Northern California will produce fine crops, and with this production will come a large degree of prosperity.

In Santa Cruz, Monterey and Santa Clara counties the average crop is looked for confidently. Inland and in the southern parts of the State some of the large wheat growing valleys are not promising crops this year; here and there there are some slight exceptions, but, as a rule, any considerable yield must not be expected.

In the extreme southern portions of the State the present aspect is very discouraging, and, except where irrigation has been resorted to, there will be little raised this year.

One noticeable feature of the season remains to be noticed. The streams, for the most part, in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys are at a very low stage for this season of the year. The very light rain fall, and the limited deposit of snow upon the mountains, will deprive the streams of their usual supplies, either from the melting snows or the water-bearing strata. The fact is, many streams are now as much reduced as in August, and sinks and pools usually full and overflowing in February are now frequently on the point of drying out entirely, while small streams fail completely in their usual current. This will make it a hard Spring for the stock men, and will increase the area of valley and hill pasturage greatly, while it will as greatly enhance the value of living lake and pond ranges, which are not sufficient for the increased stock demands of the country.

A Brief Sketch of General Miles.

General Nelson A. Miles, who has of late taken General Custer's place as an Indian fighter, is a native of Massachusetts, and has had a remarkable career of advancement in the army. He was born in one of the upper towns of Worcester county. The second year of the war of the rebellion found him a clerk in a crockery ware store in Boston. He was but little more than twenty-one years of age, with no military experience. It was proposed to raise a company in the city of Roxbury for the regiment then being formed by United States Senator Wilson, and young Miles had an uncle who took considerable interest in the formation with the view of making his nephew its second lieutenant. When the officers came to be chosen he had one vote for first lieutenant over another member who it was had a better right to that distinction. The Captain sided with this latter officer, and this made so much bad feeling that Lieutenant Miles left the company to join the staff of one of the Generals in the division. His advance in it was astonishingly rapid, from that time out and he lost no occasion to smile upon the petty bickerings that put him in the way to it. He was often in fights and won distinction constantly. At the battle of Chancellorsville this almost raw youth was thrown into a position in which he had command some hours of a most important portion of the line. He held it with rare credit, but came out of the action severely wounded. This made him not only a General, but a very distinguished soldier, and attracted to him the attention of the regular army officers, who pronounced him to be possessed of the best elements of a military commander. General Miles had a reputation second to almost no man in the volunteer forces of the State when the war ended. He was selected to take charge of Jefferson Davis while the latter was the Government's prisoner which brought him into notice all over the nation. A few years since he was married at the West to a relative of Gen. Sherman. Fortune seems to favor him in every respect. He is a man of fine physical frame and with an unusual endowment of manly beauty, and if he is as successful in fighting Indians as he has been in all his other army experience he is destined to be their conqueror. There is probably no instance among Massachusetts soldiers where a man without influence to aid him has risen so high.

THE COUNT.

We are agreeably disappointed. Laboring under a temporary fear we thought the Democrats would insist upon reading all the testimony in the South Carolina case which would destroy all hope of the count being continued as contemplated by the Electoral law. But South Carolina was counted for Hayes; and the testimony was not ordered read. Tennessee and Texas were gone through with when the joint convention divided on Vermont, and a recess was taken. The count will be completed to-day and Hayes declared elected.

AN ATTEMPT TO ROB THE PIOCHE STAGE FRUSTRATED.—The Pioche stage was attacked on Tuesday night, one mile this side of Ward, by two masked men named John Carlow and J. Crawford. Carlow stepped from behind a tree and commenced shooting without any warning. Eugene Blair, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, returned the fire and shot an arm off Carlow, who is thought to be mortally wounded. Blair then had a hand-to-hand fight with Crawford, but in the darkness he escaped. Carlow was taken to Ward. One passenger was shot in the leg. It is thought that Crawford cannot escape.

THE INAUGURATION CELEBRATION.—The Executive Committee to make arrangements for inauguration ceremonies held a meeting in Washington Wednesday night and decided that it was inexpedident to hold an inauguration ball, but in lieu thereof determined upon a grand torchlight procession and illumination at night. It is expected that 5000 torches will be in line, and Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the Executive Mansion will be brilliantly illuminated with calcium lights. Private buildings along the avenue will be brilliently illuminated.

NO DANGER OF DELAY.—While it is true that the obstructions in the House are numerous, and daily in receipt of telegrams and letters from political friends to stand firm and delay the further count of the electoral vote, yet those who are opposed to delays and act in conjunction with the Republicans constitute a sufficient majority to prevent the defeat of the final count.

THE Pacific Coast items in the Indian Appropriation Bill, as fixed by the Conference Committee and finally passed by both Houses, are: For the Arizona Apaches, $300,000; New Mexico Apaches, $100,000. Incidental expenses of the service in California and Arizona, $25,000 each; New Mexico, $20,000; Oregon, $15,000; Nevada, Utah, Washington, $10,000 each.

On the Adjournment of the Nevada Legislature.

O God, we would on bended knee,
Return our heartfelt thanks to Thee,
That ere another sun shall rise
To brighten and illume the skies,
A body that for sixty day,
Has grievous stood against Thy ways,
Will sink in death no more to rise,
Till for the damned call Satan cries.

THE Virginia Chronicle, the leading Democratic paper of the State, in an article on the veto of the bullion tax bill says:

Bradley is a Democrat, but we hope that, hereafter, he will have no remarks to make about returning boards or electoral commissions. They have done no worse than he. They have simply obeyed orders ignored and decided in opposition to the known will of the people, and that is just what he has done. With two Bradleys, one at Carson and one at Washington, we are in a rather bad case. We are sorry to say, however, that we have a graver complaint than mere individual pig-headedness to bring against the Governor. His veto of the bill is a direct breach of faith. The compromise proposition was submitted to him, the Controller, and the Treasurer, before being introduced, and he agreed to it. Had he not done so, the bill would not have been introduced at all. The Governor is under control of a little clique of politicians who mould him like putty, and when he has his orders from them the whole State might go to ruin for aught he would care. If his obstinacy were the result of deliberate conviction we should not feel so disgusted at it; but when we know it to be only a dogged adherence to the wishes of those who "run" him, we have no respect whatever for it.

CABINET OFFICERS.

During Grant's administration there have been more changes in the Cabinet than under any other President. Secretary of State Fish is the only man who has been in the Cabinet from the beginning of Grant's term, with the exception of six days, when the duties of the Secretaryship were discharged by Hon. E. B. Washburne. There have been four Secretaries of the Treasury—Boutwell, Richardson, Bristow and Morrill; five Attorney-Generals—Hoar, Akerman, Williams, Pierrepont and Taft; two Secretaries of the Navy—Borie and Robeson; four Secretaries of War—Rawlins, Belknap, Taft and Cameron; three Secretaries of the Interior—Cox, Delano and Chandler; three Postmaster-Generals—Creswell, Jewell and Tyner.

SEE THE CONQUERING HERO COMES. Gov. Hayes and party leave Ohio to-day at 12:55 P. M., on the Panhandle route, for Washington.

SEARCHING FOR BURIED TREASURE.—County School Superintendent Saxon returned from San Juan Capistrano yesterday. He found the people of that flourishing burg in a high State of excitement, the population had turned out almost en masse in search of treasure-trove. It appears that there has been a tradition for a long time in San Juan that a pirate vessel, at some remote time, had landed in the little cove and debarked a large amount of treasure, variously estimated at from three to ten million dollars. The pirates are supposed to have buried the "swag"—the spoils, doubtless, of many a sunken galleon—some four or five miles from San Juan. The story has been repeated a little oftener than usual lately; and, as a consequence, a search for the treasure began the other day. Pick and spade were brought into requisition, and the lands in the neighborhood of San Juan, which had anything like a hiding place look about them, began to show as though a drove of energetic hogs had been rooting around. The owners of the property implored the interposition of Judge Dick Egan to protect their vested rights, but the pick and shovel brigade begged for just two more days, and the request was granted. If there does not prove to be "millions in it" by that time they are willing to forgo further search. The sum total of the quest so far has been the finding of a handsomely chased silver crucifix, which the displacement of a brick brought to light. We await additional developments with great curiosity.—Los Angeles Herald, Feb. 25th.

THIS AND THAT.

The gnat while flying, vibrates its wings 15,000 times per minute.

The wings of some insects are so thin that 50,000 of them would not be more than one-quarter of an inch in thickness.

Humboldt estimates the mean depth of the ocean to be 975 feet. Laplace estimated it at 3,250 feet.

The Public Pulse.

New Hampshire will afford the first indication of the condition of the public pulse. Mr. Hayes, it is now almost certain, will be inaugurated on the 5th of March, and on the second Tuesday following, New Hampshire will vote for members of Congress. The leaders, as if understanding the significance of the verdict, have entered upon the canvass with great vigor, and both sides claim to be confident. In one sense the Republicans have the advantage. The vote in the State in November showed a Republican gain of about three thousand over the vote when the present Congressional delegation was elected. Consequently, if the Republicans hold their own on the November vote they will gain two members of Congress. The Democrats, however, claim that the Republicans cannot hold their November gains. They stoutly assert that the Republicans of New Hampshire cannot be rallied in force to give the sanction to the recent tactics of their Congressional leaders which a full Republican vote would be construed to give. On this point, at this distance, we can form no opinion. If, however, the Republicans should gain a member of Congress, even if their entire vote should fall below that of November, the inferences would be that the people are disposed to permit our political agitations to subside for the time being.—S. F. Call.

STATE NEWS.

The Eureka Sentinel reports trouble between mine owners at Ward District. Fourteen miners were driven from the Ward Consolidated Mine by an armed force from the Paymaster. The Ward force armed themselves and returned to the mine and compelled the invaders to beat a hasty retreat.

Thomas F. Ward, a well known miner and prospector, and discoverer of the famous Ward District, Nev., in which are located the valuable mines of the Martin White and Stoptoe Companies, died at Ward City, Feb. 17. Mr. Ward was but 32 years old, and left a considerable fortune.

The Elko Independent reports two shooting scrapes as having occurred last Friday, one in Bull Run Valley, where Cass Riddle shot and dangerously wounded a man named Lyle, for paying addresses to his daughter; the other at Cornucopia, where John Hubbard shot and killed Dyer French.

The Belmont Company are shortly going to commence raising ore from that bonanza. This will be convincing proof that the rumor of a strike is not without foundation.

The reports coming from Tybo leads one to believe that it is the lively camp of Nevada.

Our State Colors.

A correspondent of the Virginia Chronicle writes as follows:

It was Francis Keyes who immortalized himself by composing and giving to the world our national hymn, and now it is the diminutive, wiry, grizzled and somewhat poetical Assemblyman from Lyon county, Hon. Clark Clever, who, yesterday, did all in his power to provide us with regulation colors for the dome of the Capitol and to float over the helmeted heads of our State militia. His bill for this purpose, which has passed the Assembly, described as follows what shall hereafter be known and used as the Nevada State flag: It is to be of blue bunting, same size as the regulation "red, white and blue," with coat of arms and legend "All for our country" in the center. In the upper part of the coat of arms the figures "36," and immediately below the legend "Oct. 1, 1864," representing the date of admission into the Union and the number of the State. Around the edge of the entire flag is to be a border of white, and in the upper corner next to the staff a single five pointed white star, representing the State in the national constellation. The bill provides that every military company shall carry no other flag, banner or ensign except their State colors and "Old Glory." Nor can the military be paraded as escort to any religious or civic society bearing flags, standards or banners of foreign nations. The bill passed the Assembly by a large majority, but I apprehend its amendment or speedy death in the Senate. It must certainly be amended so that the military can be paraded on Fourth of July in connection with the Hibernians, Masons and other societies.

Long Senatorial Terms.

Of those who had great length of service in the Senate, Thomas H. Benton heads the list. He was a member of the Senate for thirty years, and no other United States Senator served there for four terms. Chas Sumner had four continuous elections but died within a year of the close of his fourth term—chosen in 1851 and dying March 11, 1874. James A Pierce, of Maryland, had four successive elections, but died soon after the commencement of his last term—chosen in 1843 and dying December 20, 1853. Daniel Webster had four continuous elections, 1827, 1833, 1839 and 1845, but there was a break in the last two terms, when he was in the Harrison and Fillmore Cabinets—1841 and 1850. Henry Clay had five appointments to the Senate, the first two by gubernatorial selections, 1806 and 1810, and the rest from the Legislature—1831, 1837 and 1849. He resigned near the close of his second full term, and, after serving three years of his last, tendered his resignation, but died June 29, 1852, before the date named for its taking effect. John C. Calhoun was fifty years of age before he was sent to the Senate, to which he had five elections. He had been in the lower House of Congress for six years and Secretary of War for eight years. He was elected to the Senate in December, 1832, as the successor of R. Y. Hayne, re-elected in 1835 and in 1841, resigned in 1842, and subsequently went into the Tyler Cabinet as Secretary of State. Senator Huger resigned in 1845 to make way for Calhoun, who reappeared and served out his original term; he was re-elected in 1847, and continued there until his death, March 31, 1850.

"ARE these genuine sausages?" asked he of the butcher. "Ya," said the butcher, "dey ish genuine." "Made of dog and cat and all that?" observed the man. "Nein! nein! dey ish not!" indignantly replied the butcher; "I makes no dog's und cat's meat in mine sausages." "Well, then," said the man, walking off, "I don't want them; I'm after the genuine article." The butcher was annoyed at losing the customer, and gazing wistfully after him, reproachfully muttered, "Ya, ya—it is sometimes better uff I toldt de truth."—Chicago Evening Journal.

To Start Up Again.

The Reno flouring mills will commence running in a few days. Men are now engaged in cleaning and repairing the water ditch, and the mill itself is undergoing all necessary repairs. The mill will be under the management of Forbes & Cockbill, the latter gentleman being resident superintendent. The mill has been idle six months, but during all that time Mr. Forbes, the owner, has received $300 per month, from California parties, who would rather not have opposition.

Vetoed.

As we surmised yesterday would be the case, Gov. Bradley vetoed the bullion tax bill, and we have no idea that it was passed over his head by the Legislature. Two representative Reno men were discussing the veto last evening. One said "Three cheers for Bradley." The other remarked "I think he is a d—d fool." The popular sentiment is with the latter gentleman.

Personal.

Mr. Wheelock, of King & Wheelock, of Des Moines, Iowa, has just arrived here from that place, with the object of securing, if possible, the contract for building the iron bridge across the Truckee at Reno. He will explain more fully to the Board of Commissioners on Monday.

The Funeral.

A telegram from Mr. Stiner last evening stated that he would reach Reno this evening with the body of his daughter, the late Mrs. Pendleton, who died in Pine Grove, and that the funeral would take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock P. M.

John Heffion

Can find a dispatch if he will step around to the Western Union Telegraph office.

Declined.

A Wadsworthite sends us an anonymous communication. That kind don't go with us. Affix real name.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Pay a visit to the public school this afternoon. The change will prove of value.

The revival meetings still continue, and great interest is manifested.

The stock market is rather weak.

All was quiet in the Police Court yesterday.

The discount on silver continues to be a source of great annoyance to many Reno merchants.

The Board of Commissioners will hold their regular monthly meeting next Monday. The bridge business will occupy considerable of their time.

The example set by Bill Stopher is a good one. Many of the old stand-bys would be a great deal better off if they were married.

The District Court will be in session again on Monday.

Dr. Bergman left on the lightning train last night for San Francisco to bid a cousin adieu who leaves on Saturday's steamer for the Sandwich Islands. The doctor will return Monday morning.

Does Mining Pay.

Three years ago James A. Scott arrived in this town from the State of Michigan; times being dull in his line of business as contractor and builder, he bought a pick and shovel and went out prospecting. He made a location three and a half miles north of town and is now about to complete a contract to have one hundred thousand tons of ore worked, with parties who intend building a mill and furnaces near here. The ore will leave a net profit of about four dollars per ton. Samples may be seen at the carpenter shop of Peacock & Scott, Virginia street.

Our Pun.

Our cotemporaries all over the country are engaged in perpetrating wretched puns upon the political situation. One says that "the Democrats are now Returning Bored;" another that "Tilden feels badly because Hayes did not Louisiana votes;" another says that "Tilden, in going up Salt river, instead of sailing up, would Rutherford it," and many other kindred puns. From the latest telegrams regarding the Presidential contest, we can Rutherford to B happy, for Rutherford B. Hayes it.

That Washoe Valley Road.

The Senate bill which authorizes the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe county to issue bonds in the sum of $5,000 for the construction of a highway across Washoe Valley from a point near Franktown to the old Ophir toll-road, passed the Senate, through the influence of Mr. Boardman, day before yesterday. We hope our Assemblymen did not allow it to become a law.

School Bill Passed.

The bill which gives the town of Reno, through its Board of School Trustees, the right to issue bonds for the sum of $20,000 for school-building purposes passed both Houses of the Legislature, and has been signed by the Governor. Now then the town will have something it has long needed.

An After-Clap.

We understand that a disposition exists among the bonanza men to close down their mines and suspend outside operations. This is because the bullion tax bill did not become a law. We hope they will not carry any such threats into execution. The times would be "dull" indeed were they to take such an unjust course.

Improvements.

Jim Chambers is busy; what with putting in gas, fixing billiard tables, painting, etc., he has his hands full. A partition is being run across the saloon, which will make the billiard room a separate institution, and with the other improvements contemplated make the place a pleasant resort.

Phœnix-Like.

The burnt district around the Depot Hotel is rapidly disappearing, and in a few days not a trace of fire will be seen. Anxious to see the old house open again.

Leased.

The hotel on the corner of Second and Virginia streets has been leased to Messrs. Horan & O'Leary. It will be open to the public by the 15th instant.

Stock-broker.

Johnny Hereford has become associated with F. A. Tritle, of Virginia, taking the place made vacant by the death of D. Driscoll.

The Bogus Bullion Case.

From the Call of Wednesday we extract this account of a trial now going on in San Francisco, the circumstances connected with it being familiar to a large number of people in this section:

The trial of Henry Thompson, for uttering and passing a bogus bar of bullion, was resumed yesterday in the Municipal Criminal Court. Wells, Fargo & Co's detective, Robertson, and the scamp Wilson were placed upon the stand, and corroborated the story of the swindle as heretofore given. Thompson was then sworn, and set up a novel defence. According to his story, Langley put up the job and swindled him as bad as he did Bailey. Thompson stated that he is out of pocket $500, which he advanced to Langley, and that all the money given to him by Bailey he passed over to Langley. He swears that the bar in question was not bogus; that he tested it thoroughly, and found it genuine; that it was not thrown overboard by Wilson from the ferry boat, but that he (Wilson), knowing its value, appropriated it to himself. Thompson further says, that subsequent to the time of its supposed submersion he saw the identical bar in the possession of Wilson in San Jose. He then purchased it from Wilson for $500. He brought it to this city and concealed it under his bed, where it remained for some time, until it was stolen by Langley. He also said that he saw half of the bar in the possession of Langley at Reno. The case was argued in the afternoon, and Judge Blake reserved his charge to the jury until this morning, when the case will be submitted to them.

Hon. H. R. Whitehill, State Mineralogist, was in town last evening, en route to San Francisco, where he will remain about a week.

Zinc Monuments.—Some ingenious speculator has gone into the zinc monument business, with the design of supplanting marble and granite. They are cast, quite heavy, and are represented as very desirable. Samples have been introduced at Stockton, and the Independent says a most perfect imitation of dark gray granite is given by the natural color of the zinc, while all the designs that can possibly be worked upon marble are reproduced in the indestructible metal. They are said never to crack with frost, nor to be stained with green moss, nor in any way change color with time, but preserve the same fresh appearance for ages. The beautiful frosted appearance, the same as given to silverware, is produced by a combination of the sand blast process and the oxidizing process. After undergoing the artificial oxidation no other oxidation can ever take place.

A Southern View.—This is what the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle and Sentinel say about the decisions of the tripartite Commission: There is a good deal of stuff being written and published now about the Hayes leaders bribing Southern Democrats to abide the decision of the Commission. The Southern Democrats in the House, as well as the Northern Democrats, will accept the verdict of the Fifteen, not because they are bribed, but because they are in honor bound to do so.

A report has gained currency to the effect that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company is negotiating for the purchase of the Colorado Steam Navigation Company's steamers.

Russia has decided to demobilize her army when peace is declared between the Porte and Servia and Montenegro.

"One Good Turn Deserves Another."—The above adage is most applicable to Messrs. Grey & Isaacs, dry goods merchants, Virginia street. Seeing since they have come amongst us, ladies have discovered to their joy that the prices in dry goods have fallen to one half their original price, and still they tumble, as Grey & Isaacs are determined to still continue to lead the dry goods trade of Reno, and with that aim in view they have marked down their entire stock to enable them to clear out all their Winter goods, so now is your opportunity ladies to buy dry goods at your own price, at the same time showing your appreciation for their past acts. *
